

Hey Mr. Scientist

Just because you can do it doesn't mean you should do it
Just because you can do it doesn't mean you should do it

Hey Mr. Scientist, you've designed your experiment
It could be the greatest breakthrough of all time
You can't wait to get started, everything's in line

But hey Mr. Scientist, you can't start your experiment
You've got to take the time to think things through
You've got to find out if it's the right thing to do

Chorus:

Identify the trade-offs
You've got to know what could go wrong
If you think that it's worth it
You can experiment all day long
It's all about the ethics
It's what keeps Science going strong
If you forget about the ethics
Things could go very wrong

Just because you can do it doesn't mean you should do it
Just because you can do it doesn't mean you should do it

Hey Mr. Scientist, you need to identify
What you going to give up when you experiment
You need to know before you even try

Hey, Mr. Scientist, it's your opinion, you must decide
When the good outweighs the bad its ethical
But when the bad outweighs the good it's unethical

Chorus:

Just because you can do it doesn't mean you should do it
Just because you can do it doesn't mean you should do it
Just because you can do it doesn't mean you should do it
Just because you can do it doesn't mean you should do it
